MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR RICHMOND LAYOVER

With Vancouver International Airport (YVR) located in Richmond, the city is perfect for easy-access layover visits. Check your luggage at the airport with CDS Baggage, located on level two of the domestic and international terminals.

LAYOVER TOUR

Walk to the Canada Line's YVR-Airport Station. Buy a transit DayPass at the vending machine, then take the next Richmond-bound train that comes along.

Zip to Richmond-Brighthouse Station and board a number 401, 402, 406 or 407 bus. In under 30 minutes, the buses all terminate in the charming Steveston Village ①. From here, it's a two-minute walk to the Gulf of Georgia National Historic Site ②, a celebrated museum exploring old-time salmon-canning (1 hour).

The nearby boutiques and cafes of Moncton Street are also worth exploring (1 hour). It's also a short stroll to Fisherman's Wharf ③ —aim for fish and chips at waterfront Pajo's Fish and Chips ⑨ (30 minutes). From here, stretch your legs on a 20-minute shoreline stroll to Steveston's other National Historic Site: fishing industry-focused Britannia Shipyards National Historic Site ④ (1 hour).

Weave back to where the bus dropped you off and hop aboard any service: they all head to Richmond-Brighthouse Station. Reconnecting to the Canada Line, hop off at Templeton Station's McArthurGlen Designer Outlet ⑤, with its 70+ designer discount stores (1 hour).

You're just one stop from Bridgeport Station and the River Rock Casino Resort 13. Try your luck on the gaming floor (1 hour). Tip: McArthurGlen and River Rock are only a few stops from YVR-Airport Station if you have a short layover and are looking for fewer places to visit.

Finally, fuel-up via Richmond's amazing Asian dining scene. Alexandra Road (also known as Food Street 10) has 80+ restaurants and it's a short walk from Lansdowne Station—which means you can quickly return to the airport when required.

CANADA LINE SHOPPING & DINING LAYOVER TOUR

Walk to the Canada Line's YVR-Airport Station. Buy a transit DayPass at the vending machine, then take the next Richmond-bound train that comes along. Tip: if you're only heading to either of the next two stops (Templeton or Sea Island Centre Station), your trip is free (select "Sea Island Only" on the vending machine screen).

Zippering from the airport, you'll reach Templeton Station in three minutes. Stroll to McArthurGlen Designer Outlet 5 for high fashion without the high price (1 hour), or proceed one stop further to Bridgeport Station and see if luck is on your side at the River Rock Casino Resort 13 (1 hour).

Next, continue to Aberdeen Station and nearby Aberdeen Centre 6. One of Canada's largest Asian-themed malls, it has 100+ stores, including the handy Japanese discount store Oomomo (1 hour).

The next stop along is Lansdowne Station, near Lansdowne Centre 7 mall—home to No. 9 Restaurant 11, one of Richmond's only 24-hour eateries. It's a short walk from here to restaurant-packed Alexandra Road, known locally as Food Street 10 (1-2 hours).

Next along the line is Richmond-Brighouse Station. It's close to CF Richmond Centre 8, one of the area's biggest malls, with stores including Apple and Sephora (1 hour).

Finally, return to YVR-Airport Station. Fairmont Vancouver Airport Hotel is inside the domestic terminal and its Jetside Lounge 12 (30 minutes) is the perfect spot to toast your layover.
